General Sheridan's Reception at the Capital.

His Views on Political Affairs in Louisiana.

Intelligence of the Freedmen as Shown by the New Orleans Registry Lists.

General Sickles Renews His Demand for a Court of Inquiry.

Order Relative to the Increase of Letter Carriers' Salaries.

Sheridan and Sickles to be Serenaded on Monday.

Etc., Etc., Etc.

Special Despatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.

SHERIDAN.

General Sheridan is the lion of the day here, and a great number of persons have called at his hotel to pay their respects. [illegible] When questioned as to the probable result of the coming election in Louisiana, he replied that he had no doubt there would be a large majority in favor of a Convention. When asked as to the educational advancement and improvement of the colored people in Louisiana, he stated that in the country parishes and on the plantations there were a vast number of uneducated and ignorant people, but there were even among these many who were anxious for the improvement of their race, and who were using their opportunity to make them appreciate their changed situation, and to educate them in the duties of citizenship. In New Orleans he remarked that the registration lists showed that there were more colored people who could sign their names on the registry lists than there were whites. The General was at the War Department and General Grant's headquarters several hours to-day, and dined with Grant. He did not visit the White House.

PAY DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATION.

The Pay Department Investigating Committee has been in session here three days this week, but has not taken important evidence. General Sheridan will be examined on Monday. The committee will remain here about ten days longer, and then adjourn till the middle of November.

PROPOSED OVATION TO SHERIDAN AND SICKLES.

The soldiers of the Grand Army of the Republic have determined to serenade Generals Sheridan and Sickles on Monday evening. [illegible]

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 21.

The United States European squadron under Admiral Farragut is still lying in the harbor. A superb entertainment was given yesterday at the Royal Palace, in honor of Admiral Farragut and the American Minister [illegible], by the King of Denmark and Greece. Speeches of welcome to the distinguished guests were made by both sovereigns, and responded to in a fitting manner. King George, of Greece, in his remarks alluded to the action of the American Congress in reference to Cretan affairs, and expressed grateful acknowledgment for the sympathy showed by that body for the suffering Christians of the Island of Crete in the resolutions passed at the recent session of the present friendship [illegible] of the Kingdom.

Contradictory Statements by the Prisoner.

A young man about twenty-eight years old, named George L. Van Solen, was arrested by Detective Samuel Ellis, about eleven o'clock on Saturday morning, at the Wheeler House, at the corner of Canal and Kinzie streets, on the charge of murder. The alleged crime was committed in August, 1865, about eight miles below St. Paul, Minnesota, the victim being an Englishman, by birth named Henry Harcourt, a physician and surgeon who resided in St. Louis, Missouri.
